

Amanda is a poet, host, curator, on-air personality, and artist manager. When not performing, she is active as a community organizer in Boston with the mission of celebrating and collaborating with all people in order to provide healing artistic opportunities in safe, expressive, and inclusive places. She joined beheard.world in 2018.