

JAY PARIS

Director of Filmmaking

Jay is a former magazine writer, editor and author who has been published widely in national and international magazines and book presses before producing and directing award-winning documentary films. He began partnering with Anna Myer in 2011 to develop mixed genre stage performances that have toured nationally. In 2016 he and Myer co-founded beheard.world, overseeing the directing and writing of films with social justice themes.